TERMS LIVE ON SITE

How to read this. These are query phrases, not volume figures. Autosuggest shows what people type, not how much they type it. For search volumes and cost per click you still need Keyword Planner or an equivalent paid tool. Terms are shown per owning page; where one cluster term appears, it belongs to that cluster's owner page alone.

Advantages of this keyword work

1 Real demand data, not guesses

Every term comes from live Google Autosuggest, so each one is a phrase people are actually typing. No keyword-tool guesswork, no invented volume figures.

2 Closer to how people speak

People rarely type neat keyword strings. They type "best cake shops in erode near me", not "erode cake". Matching that phrasing captures intent a literal keyword list would miss.

3 Long-tail terms rank faster

Head terms like "gift delivery" are saturated. Terms such as "midnight cake delivery in jaipur" have far less competition and convert better, so a smaller site can outrank larger ones.

4 Every city page gets unique coverage

The 99 city pages each target their own set, so no two pages compete for the same query in your own domain. Cannibalisation stays under your control.

5 One owner per cluster term

Commercial clusters such as teddy bear, cakes and combo gifts each have a single owning page, so link and ranking signals concentrate instead of splitting.

6 Nothing harmful slips through

Off-market place names, stale years, competitor brand phrases and food-ordering queries are filtered out before anything reaches a page.

7 Re-runnable and reviewable

The harvest is a separate script that writes a proposal file only. Nothing reaches production until a human approves it and a dry run passes.

8 Safe to reverse

Every change is a single line inside one meta tag, committed separately, so a single git revert undoes the whole batch.

Cluster keywords

Commercial clusters each have exactly one owning page, so these terms concentrate rather than spread across the site.
